

Diary Writing

Learning Objectives

In this lesson you will:

- Write a diary entry, pretending to be an evacuee.

Your Task:

You are going to use the planning you completed as part of the last lesson to write a diary entry, pretending to be William.

Success Criteria:

- ✓ You need to include: details of what happened to William in the first chapter of the novel.
- ✓ You must include details of how he is feeling. What are his emotions at different points in the chapter?
- ✓ You must use brackets in your writing to add further details to your sentences.
- ✓ Anything else that you think would add more details to William's diary.
