

Pleasant Sounds

The rustling of leaves under the feet in woods and under hedges;

The crumpling of cat-ice and snow down wood-rides, narrow lanes,
and every street causeway;

Rustling through a wood or rather rushing, while the wind halloos in
the oak-top like thunder;

The rustle of birds' wings startled from their nests or flying unseen
into the bushes;

The whizzing of larger birds overhead in a wood, such as crows,
puddocks, buzzards;

The trample of robins and woodlarks on the brown leaves, and the patter of squirrels on the green moss;

The fall of an acorn on the ground, the pattering of nuts on the hazel branches as they fall from ripeness;

The flirt of the groundlark's wing from the stubbles - how sweet such pictures on dewy mornings, when the dew flashes from its brown feathers.

The Day the Dragons Won the Lottery

The day the dragonry won the lottery
they got staggerly, swiggery, blotto-ry,
ziggery-zaggery, teetery, tottery,
proudly swaggery,
draggery faggery,
loudly braggery. Rich or what-ery?
When the dragonry won the lottery.

Oops! A snaggerly...Oh no nottery!
Just a tenner is all they gottery.
What a calamity! Sniffery snottery.
This is most certainly not what it ought to be.
Cursery, slaggery, weeperly, watery.
Utterly agony. Heckery! Rottery!
When the dragonry won the lottery.

A Martian Sends a Postcard Home

Caxtons are mechanical birds with many wings
and some are treasured for their markings..

they cause the eyes to melt
or the body to shriek with pain

I have never seen one fly, but sometimes they perch on the hand.

Mist is when the sky is tired of flight
and rests its soft machine on the ground:

then the world is dim and bookish
like engravings under tissue paper.

Rain is when the earth is television
it has the property of making colours darker.

Model T is a room with the lock inside ...
a lock is turned to free the world

for movement, so quick there is a film
to watch for anything missed.

But time is tied to the wrist
or kept in a box ticking with impatience.

In homes a haunted apparatus sleeps,
that snores when you pick it up.

If the ghost cries, they carry it
to their lips and soothe it to sleep

with sounds. A yet they wake it up deliberately, by tickling with a finger.

Only the young are allowed to suffer openly. Adults go to a punishment room

with water, but nothing to eat.
They lock the door and suffer the noises

alone. No one is exempt
and everyone's pain has a different smell.

At night, when all the colours die,
they hide in pairs

and read about themselves ...
in colour, with their eyelids shut
